This week in concept class talked about the seasons with a focus on spring. We practiced our rote counting and used our shelf jobs. We did a cool activity about pollen transfer. It sure was neat to figure it all out, and to see why bees are so important. We used the tactile bag to work on hard and soft items. We did a graph of our favorite things about spring. We talked about colors and how to make a rainbow. We ended the week with science shelf and free choice baskets.

Books we read:

There was an old lady who swallowed a chick, Splish/splash, Skippy Jon Jones , Fly Mon-arch fly, How the wind blew, A color of his own
