

Two's News

Week 27 February 12-16 Theme: Colors/Valentine's Day

Language Arts: Ms. Kim is ready for Valentine's Day with new songs and a game called I Spy a Valentine. The children will have a great time learning to sing with the use of puppets. Many colorful books will make their way to the shelf, such as Cat's Colors, Good Night Sweet Butterfly and Brown Bear. Our flannel-board story is called "Make a Rainbow". The children love this little story about an elf who makes a rainbow by squeezing fruit in a pot.

Concept: Lego play will kick off our week about colors as we build towers of red, yellow, blue and green. A new game on the agenda will help us begin patterning. The children will sort colored animals into colored cups. The water table will be filled with colorful shapes for the children to explore. They will have a great time scooping the shapes out with large spoons. We are ready for lots of sensory play at our Valentine parties. The water table and moon sand table will be filled with hearts. The children will also dig through rose petals to find valentines.

Some of you may have noticed a new face in our room. Welcome Miss Kat! She has been with us for three weeks now and has been a perfect addition to our room. Ms. Kat is here to help fill in for Mrs. Jackie's maternity leave, which unexpectedly started sooner than planned. Mrs. Jackie has been placed on bed rest to insure that baby Julian arrives healthy and right on time. Feel free to come in and say "hi" to Ms. Kat. She will be here from 9:00-3:00 every day.

Parent Conferences Feb. 19 & 20

No preschool classes on these days.

Registration is open for Summer and Fall. All currently enrolled students need to re-register. Spaces fill quickly!

Craft and Writing: We are so excited about all of the fun projects we can do with our color theme. We will be rolling up our sleeves to mix colors together and see what new ones we can create. Our week also features our new shapes heart and star. Valentine's will be created this week.

Happy Valentine's Day

Owen and Reese are wearing underwear!

Teacher's Corner

Bits of Intelligence: Dinosaurs
Introductions: heart and star

