OCEAN

LANGUAGE: We will be diving into the Ocean this week to learn as much as we can about sea life. The children will enjoy books, flannel boards, finger plays and songs pertaining to the salt life. Please feel free to bring in any items from home to help with our discussion.

CRAFT AND WRITING: Mrs. Chrissy has readiness papers for al the letters in the alphabet to work on along with a dot to dot and a number paper. During craft time, the students will enjoy creating some ocean projects.

CONCEPT: We will get the estimating jar out to estimate how many fish are in the jar. We will add a shell counting and a pail and bucket job to the shelf. During science time, the children will listen to sea shells. We will also teach telling time and counting by 2's and 10's. The embryology unit is beginning this week and will last for the next 3 weeks. This is such an exciting time for your children to learn how a chick is hatched!
