Week 25 Feb. 1-5 Theme: A Splash of Color Introductions: Purple

Book of the Week: My First Colors by Sarah Davis

The painting fun continues as we begin to explore what happens when we mix colors together. Sensory bags will give us a mess-free hands on approach. Marble painting will also show us cause and effect as we roll ball pit balls in a large tray to mix the colors red, blue and yellow.

To shake things up a bit the children will definitely enjoy playing with the parachute! Colorful balls will pop up and fly as we shake it up and down. Pete the Cat will get our feet moving as we sing and dance to “I Love My White Shoes”. We continue to learn and label our colors with songs and flannel board stories. A color sorting game will help us exercise this new skill.
