OCEAN

LANGUAGE:

We will be diving into the ocean this week to learn as much as we can about sea life. The children will enjoy books, flannel boards, finger plays and songs pertaining to the salt water life. We will also use our recycled items to demonstrate what happens to animals in a trash filled ocean!

CRAFT AND WRITING:

We will continue to work on various letter and number readiness papers. The boys and girls will get to use play doh and/or paint. During craft time, the students will enjoy creating some ocean projects! Lastly, the children will be making something special for Mother's Day.

CONCEPT:

We will get the estimating jar out to estimate how many fish are in the jar. We will add a shell counting and a pail and bucket job to the shelf. During science time, the children will listen to sea shells. The children will learn all about ocean life and we have a cool science experiment to do as well.
