Weeks 16 and 17: November 28th-December 2nd and December 5th-9th, 2022
Theme: Families/Feelings
Introductions:
Proverb #2 Practice makes perfect

Star Students:
Charli E. and Brooklyne F.

Language Arts: Each family is special and each family is unique! We love our families very much and appreciate them for everything that they do. Over the next two weeks, our class will discuss who makes up our families by discussing our family members. We will explore real life pictures of families and talk about our favorite family traditions. As we learn about this topic, we will explore songs, books, flannel board stories, and many other fun learning activities. Winter is soon approaching! The children will enjoy several fun wintery review games as we continue to practice reviewing letters, numbers, shapes, and colors.

Craft and Writing: Our little artists will be quite busy throughout the week as we continue to work hard at tracing our names papers. We will also focus on tracing some uppercase and lowercase letters as well as shapes we have learned so far. We will have time to construct with playdough during the week and get our fingers moving as we build up our fine motor skills.

Concept: We will graph our feelings and graph the number of family members we each have in our homes. We will also be doing a listening activity of different sounds. The children are continuing to work on number concept and number recognition.

Motor: Hats, gloves, mittens oh my! It is time to bundle up! Our class will continue to enjoy the seasonal changes on the playground, so please remember to bring the appropriate outdoor clothing. The children will complete tasks to enhance target practice, balance, and hand and eye coordination.

Notes to Parents:

- Please like us on Facebook to see exciting things happening at our school!
- Parents, please remember to label extra clothes, blankets, and cot sheets.
- Remember to send your little ones in appropriate shoes for school. We require gym shoes for playing on the playground. Thanks!
