

Young Nursery News

Week 25: January 30– February 3, 2023 Careers

Language Arts:

The children will enjoy several books about different types of careers. Our selections will include: I'm a Fireman and I'm a Police Officer. Our career flannel board stories will help the children to learn what different occupations do! We'll also enjoy the finger plays Our Friends, In Our Community, and Nifty Neighbors.

Concept:

The children will be practicing their sorting and counting skills. The children will be dividing different objects into groups by color, and then counting how many of each! We will review the numbers 1-4, and the colors red, blue, yellow, green, orange, black, brown, and purple!

Motor:

We will be moving all around the young nursery room this week, if our winter weather keeps us indoors! The children will be crawling through the tunnel, rocking in the boat, and dancing to music.

Craft and Writing:

Look for several occupation papers and crafts! The children will be gluing, painting, and coloring these different projects. Our projects will include a teacher and a doctor.
