Week of 1/23
Introduce: pink and white

Theme – Careers

Concept: What do you want to be when you grow up? This week we will be talking about careers. We will match pictures of workers with the tools they use and make sure that the doctor gets his medical bag, the carpenter gets the hammer and the teacher gets the school books! We will also add pink and white to our daily review.

Art: We will be painting with our new colors pink and white and coloring pictures of the jobs we love most! Some of our favorites are zoo keepers, police officers, firemen and construction workers.

Language Arts: We will talk about different careers. We will learn new finger plays and flannel board stories such as “Five Police Officers” and “Community Helpers.” We will also read a book about careers called Career Day.

Motor: We are going to be busy riding bikes(weather permitting), and using some of our favorite exercise equipment. We will pretend to be fireman putting out a fire! We will also practice our aim in block bowling by knocking down the colors pink and white.

Please make sure to send your child in proper outerwear- winter jackets, hats, mittens. We will continue to go outside when possible!
