

What's happening this week?

10/9-10/13

Theme : Our 5 Senses

Intro: Gg Hh 7 and 8

Craft and Writing

This week we are going to work on our new letters and numbers with printing practice. We have a few activities surrounding our theme about Our 5 Senses. We will be making a Mr. Potato Head craft which will have all of our five senses included. We will also use our sense of touch to work with some playdough to create some sculptures.

Concept

It's all about science and using our senses this week in concept! Each day we will talk about a different sense and come up with ways we use it. We will also talk about what would happen if we couldn't use a sense. The class will really enjoy this week and our activities included. I have some tastes testing fun which is always a good time!

Another fun lesson we will have this week will be using all 5 of our senses when we make some popcorn in class.

Show and Tell Friday: G or H item, or something to do with our 5 senses

Language Arts

We are introducing letters G and H to our class this week! We will add them to our Amos song and talk about the sounds they make. We will use our phonics buckets to talk about different things starting with those letters.

Also this week, we have several books to read all about our senses. I look forward to a fun week!
