Introductions:
Pink & White

Language:

Do you know what you want to be when you grow up? A Doctor, a Firefighter, or a Police Officer? This week the children will be learning about all the different types of jobs. We will enjoy reading stories and singing songs that will reinforce our theme of Careers. A new flannel board story will be introduced, "Five Police Officers."

Concept:

During our concept time, we will be looking at pictures of different types of careers. The children will also be working on their sorting skills by matching colors where they belong.

Craft and Writing:

During this week we will work on papers and projects to go along with our theme. We'll also play the role of construction workers as we create things from playdough and we will be introducing our new colors, pink and white.

Motor:

This week the children will be doing an obstacle course which include the balance beam, tunnel, and stair steps. We will also have fun plying freeze dance and bowling.

Have a great week!
