Week 21

Theme: Winter

Manners: Wait your turn

Bits of Intelligence: Mammals

Language Arts

The Language room has a very busy week ahead. Ms. Stephanie will introduce new songs, one titled "Five Little Snowmen". We look forward to lots of flannel board fun! "Snowman, Snowman What Do You See?" is sure to be a favorite. The children will be talking about what snowmen wear as they build one on the flannel board.

Concept

There's a lot to talk about this week in concept class. During calendar time the children will learn about our new month of January and our new year 2023! We have a winter snowman matching game planned, as well as a snowman counting activity that will require the children to count out the correct number of pom-poms to use as buttons. The children will have a blast scooping ice cubes out of the water table. There will also be a discussion about appropriate winter clothing while dressing Mr. Snowman.

Craft and Writing

It's a new Year and time to work on cutting skills! The children will cut both Play-Doh and scraps. This week the children will enjoy creating a melted snowman as a craft project. Mrs. Nicole has some fun in store as the children ice paint.

Motor

The teachers will work on the ball and wand to strengthen eye-hand coordination, tunnel play and an obstacle course. We will also enjoy playing snowman knockdown.
