

Mrs. Laura's VPK Class Weekly News

What's happening this week?

9/9-9/13

Theme : Fall Season

Intro: Cc and Dd 3 and 4

Craft and Writing

We will start our week our with a C and D writing paper. We will also have a few other worksheets to help introduce our new letters. This week we also introduce 3 and 4. So, we will trace and write those numbers as well as learn some counting techniques on paper.

For the Fall theme we will be creating a Fall Tree, and some fall leaves.

Motor

Motor evaluations: skip, jump, hop, balance, throw

Notes

The class did a great job on our first round of STARR testing and evaluations. Please be sure to read the report and send it back signed. If you have questions don't hesitate to reach out! :)

SHOW AND TELL FRIDAY: FALL or item starting with C OR D

Concept

This week. We will be finishing up on our small manipulative evaluations. I will challenge the students to some different "games" dealing with size, counting, self help skills, and putting things in order.

We will also introduce the Fall season. Even though we aren't feeling it here, we will discuss things that happen in the fall in cooler climates. I have a fun lacing leaves game to learn!

Language Arts

Language class is full of letter C and D! We will learn the next parts to our "A is for Amos" song as we practice the phonics sounds. I will open up the new C and D letter boxes to look at items starting with the letters.

We have been working on Taffy Apple 1 and 2 so we will continue with story 3! I'm so proud of their work!

Sight words to practice: Run, run, jump, Jump, and, Apple, Taffy, come
